The comic book page is divided into three panels. The left panel is a large action scene showing Red Ryder in a dynamic pose, surrounded by other characters in a chaotic setting. The right side of the page contains two smaller panels. The top right panel is a close-up of a character with a beard and a hat, looking intense. The bottom right panel shows two characters, one of whom is Red Ryder, in a conversation. The text 'Red Ryder' is written vertically on the far left margin.

Conn didn't even wait enough to go through the intricate routine of getting acquainted with the other before going to work. He boxed two fast rounds with Tommy Schmitt, a former champion, before he was obliged to stop the fight.

After the arm wrestling, the opponent was Billy's brother, Jim, and Mickey The Mack. Mickey was a former champion, and he was a tough fighter. He was a former champion, and he was a tough fighter.

Now we have to do more work there, before to shake work that stiffness out.

This is one time there can't be any more of those "I'm in the ring" things.

There are but a few of the specialists needed in the post-war Republic Army. If you held an Army military occupation specialty (MOS), then you have a good reason. The War Department has recruited those men who were honorably discharged from the Army between May 1, 1945, and May 1, 1946, into the Regular Army in their qualified specialties. You can now make a grade depending upon the length of time that you held your MOS. You must arrive before June 30, 1945, if you wish to take advantage of this opportunity. It means excellent training and experience in a skilled job which will prepare you for a future career. It means steady and good pay as well as the finest in food, clothing, education and travel. You will be given the complete details without any obligation by the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 215 Post Office Bldg., Tonawanda, Ark.

Commission Investigating Army 'Caste' System Made Up of Former Enlisted Men

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—The Army's own investigation of the alleged "caste" system might well be the most revealing yet. It was announced today that the Army's own investigation, Department, Lieut. Col. Robert Noelle, formerly of the 8888 Central Postal Directory and Stripes in the Mediterranean, is leading the investigation.

By FRANCIS M. McMAHON

Washington, April 4.—(AP)—Congressional battles for acceptance of the new Army Air Corps controls also shed some light on the "caste" system. The House voted today to approve the first House Bill, H.R. 1000, which would give the Army more than one hundred new positions. over, there already are considerable numbers of people who are not "back-picked." This is a little ridiculed, but it is true. There are a lot of people who are not "back-picked" and two of the members of the House of Representatives have formed a Senate-Liaison Congressional Committee to help people who are not "back-picked" to get into the works for the Veterans Administration. I am talking about the work of the Senate-Military Personnel Committee, which is headed by Sen. Mervyn Frost, of Washington, and the House Military Personnel Committee, headed by Rep. Howard Callaway, of California.

During the German occupation he was a technical advisor on strategy and sabotage for the Allies and helped set up a secret organization to help the Japanese and others who reported on potential Allied military operations. He said the Allies wanted a bridge across the Japanese archipelago, and he said he was for such operations. "We blew it," he said.
